

Purpose

If you're back in school full-time and have previous OSAP (Ontario Student Assistance Program) loans, then you must ensure that they are placed into interest-free status. When your loans are in interest-free status, you don't have to make payments on the interest and principal.

Use this application so that the National Student Loans Service Centre (NSLSC) is notified that you're back in full-time studies. If your application is approved, your new study period dates (known as your "confirmed study period") will be provided to the NSLSC and/or the financial institution(s) holding your full-time OSAP loans.

When to Use this Application

Use this application if all of the following apply to you:

1. You are not submitting an OSAP Application for Full-Time Students or an Ontario Learn and Stay Grant Application for your study period.

If your full-time OSAP application or Ontario Learn and Stay Grant application is approved, your study period information is sent to the NSLSC when your school confirms your enrolment.

2. You have outstanding full-time loans issued from OSAP. This includes:

- Canada-Ontario Integrated Student Loans (COISL)
- Canada Student Loans (issued before August 1, 2000)
- Ontario Student Loans (issued before August 1, 2001)

3. You are now in full-time studies or within 15 days of starting full-time studies.

For OSAP purposes, you're in full-time studies if you're taking 60% or more of a full course load (or at least 40% of a full course load if you have a permanent disability or a persistent or prolonged disability).

4. You meet the following eligibility requirements for your school, program and study period length:

School

You can apply for interest-free status if you are enrolled in a postsecondary school approved for OSAP purposes. Check out the list of approved schools on the OSAP website at ontario.ca/osap.

If you are enrolled at an Ontario secondary school (high school) or a private postsecondary school in Ontario not on the list of approved schools, you can also apply for interest-free status consideration.

Program and Study Period Length

To be considered for interest-free status, your study period must be between 6 and 52 weeks long.

All aspects of your study period, including co-op work terms and work placements, can be considered for interest-free status as long as your program is:

- Approved for full-time OSAP purposes and leads to a degree, diploma or certificate; or
- Considered as academic upgrading (e.g., high school equivalency programs, pre-university programs, English or French as a second language) and is offered by a public college or university in Ontario; or
- A pre-requisite (often referred as "make-up year") for admission into a second entry level degree program (e.g, dentistry, law, medicine) or a university graduate studies program.
- The Law Society of Upper Canada's Law Practice Program only if it is taken through Toronto Metropolitan University or the University of Ottawa.

The following programs are not eligible for interest-free status consideration:

- Practical training required for acceptance in a professional corporation, trade or profession (e.g., medical internship or residency, dietetic internship).
- Practical training in excess of the hours required for your program's degree, diploma or certificate requirements.
- The licensing process through the Law Society of Upper Canada or equivalent. (Exception: Students in the Law Society of Upper Canada's Law Practice Program at Toronto Metropolitan University or the University of Ottawa).
- Post-doctoral programs.

Students who have received Ontario Learn and Stay Grants which have been converted into Ontario Student Loans should submit this application.

Students who have received Ontario Learn and Stay Grant and wish to confirm enrolment should also submit a separate form to extend their study period end date to prevent grant to loan conversion. The form can be found on the OSAP website (Ontario.ca/osap) under the "Forms" section (available Fall 2024).

When to Apply?

The earliest you can apply is 15 days before the start of your study period.

Deadline

Your application package must be received no later than 21 days before the end of your study period.

How to Apply

Your application package is divided into three parts. You complete:

- Part 1 (Registration and Your Profile)
- Part 2 (Continuation of Interest-Free Status Application)
- Part 3 (Enrolment Confirmation) – Section C: Student Information only

Take the following action based on where you are going to school:

If you're enrolled in a postsecondary school in Canada approved for OSAP purposes:

Send all parts of your completed application package to the financial aid office at your school.

If you're enrolled in:

- A postsecondary school outside of Canada
- A secondary school (high school) in Ontario
- A private postsecondary school in Ontario not on the list of approved schools for OSAP purposes

Forward Part 3 (Enrolment Confirmation) to your school for completion. Make sure they return the completed form to you. Send all parts of your completed application package to:

Student Financial Assistance Branch
Ministry of Colleges and Universities
PO Box 4500
189 Red River Road, 4th Floor
Thunder Bay, Ontario
P7B 6G9

What Happens After You Apply

Your financial aid office or the Ministry of Colleges and Universities (ministry) will notify you if your application is denied.

If your application is approved, your existing full-time loans from OSAP may be eligible to be placed into interest-free status. The National Student Loans Service Centre (NSLSC) and/or the financial institution(s) holding your previous student loans will be notified of your new study period information. However, the information can still be rejected by the NSLSC or your previous lender if your loans are not in good standing (e.g., your payments are in arrears or your loans are in default).

The length of your interest-free status period could also be affected if your loans were already in repayment status when your application was approved:

- For Ontario Student Loans and the Ontario portion of your COISL: You may be eligible for interest-free status for your entire study period provided that your loans are in good standing.
- For Canada Student Loans and the Canada portion of your COISL: Your interest-free period begins the date your application is approved.

Follow up with the NSLSC and/or the financial institutions holding your previous student loans to verify the interest-free status period applied to your full-time loans.

If Your Study Period Status Changes

Your eligibility for interest-free status will be impacted if you withdraw from full-time studies or reduce your course load to less than 60% of a full course load (or 40% if you are a student with a permanent disability or a persistent or prolonged disability).

You must notify your financial aid office or the ministry immediately of any changes to your study period.

Checking the Status of Your Application

Check the status of your application online on the OSAP website (Ontario.ca/osap). If you don't know your OSAP Access Number (OAN) and/or password needed to check the status, you can either visit any financial aid office at a public Ontario college or university or complete an "OSAP Website: Forgot Password and/or OSAP Access Number" form that is available for printing from the OSAP website under the "Forms" section.

Consent to the indirect collection and disclosure of personal information

I understand that if I am a student studying outside of Ontario or a secondary school student, I must provide written notification of any change to the ministry.
- I understand that a change in my period of study may accelerate the date on which I will be required to begin repayment of my student loan(s) and may affect my eligibility and the type and amount of assistance I am entitled to receive.

If convicted, I may be liable for a fine of up to $25,000 and one year in prison.
