

Purpose

You may request an exceptional circumstances review if the following applies to you:

1. You experienced exceptional circumstances beyond your control, and
2. The exceptional circumstances caused you to fully or partially withdraw from postsecondary studies,
3. Because of the withdrawal, at least one of the following occurred:
 - You are restricted from receiving further OSAP assistance
 - You have an OSAP overpayment
 - Grants you received have been, or will be, converted to loan.

If the review is approved, you may be eligible for future OSAP funding. Any previous grants that were converted to a loan may be stopped or reversed.

Note: The exceptional circumstances review does not waive the requirement for parental and spousal prior year income (as applicable) to be verified.

Definition: Exceptional circumstances

The ministry considers an exceptional circumstance to have occurred if:

- There has been an unexpected event that is beyond your control.
- The outcome of the event prevents you from performing the daily activities necessary to attend postsecondary studies.
- Typically, these events would be considered rare and/or catastrophic, and often require an extended period of recovery or stabilization. The severe worsening of a pre-existing situation or condition would also be considered for an exceptional circumstances review. Routine life events are not generally considered eligible for an exceptional circumstances review.

The following are examples of exceptional circumstances:

- An event that seriously aggravates or causes a relapse to an existing disability or medical condition. For example, where an extended period is required to stabilize a medical condition.
- Mental health crisis that requires an extended period of medical intervention or emergency hospitalization, or an extended period of recovery/stabilization and treatment.
- The impact of a new or worsened disability or medical condition which required the student to take immediate and extensive actions to manage their health.
- A serious injury or surgery that results in hospitalization and/or an extended period of rest or recovery.
- Complications relating to pregnancy requiring medical intervention and extended rest or recovery, or inability to participate in program components.
- Unexpected parental leave related to the premature birth of a child or care of a dependent child with a disability or medical condition (that is a new disability or condition or existing disability or condition that has worsened).
- Unexpected loss of housing due to fire, flood, etc., which results in an extended disruption.
- Unexpected leave related to family circumstances, such as requirement to care full-time for a parent, spouse or sibling with a disability or medical condition that is new or worsened.
