Course load:

You must be taking from 20 to 59% of a full course load to be eligible for OSAP for Part-time Students. To determine your course load, compare the amount of credits or courses that you are taking, with the number of credits or courses in a full course load for your program. Your school will confirm this information once they process your application.

Note:

In determining your percentage of a full course load, course load averaging is NOT permitted. For example, if you are considered as having 70 percent of a full course load in your first term and 40 percent in your second term, the course loads cannot be averaged to equal 55 per cent for your entire study period.

Dependent children:

A dependent child is your and/or your spouse's natural or adoptive child who is:

- under 18 years of age and living with you (and your spouse, if applicable) for 50% or more of your study period; or
- 18 years of age or older; and
 - is enrolled in high school and taking at least 60% of a full course load and living with you (and your spouse, if applicable) for 50% or more of your study period; or
 - is a full-time postsecondary student and has been out of high school less than six years; or
 - has a disability and is wholly dependent on you (and your spouse, if applicable).

To be wholly dependent, a child over the age of 18 must meet all of the following conditions:

- The child is single and lives with you;
- The child is, by reason of a mental or physical disability, dependent on others for their personal needs and care; and
- The child is claimed by you (or your spouse, if applicable) for tax purposes and Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) has accepted the child as being wholly dependent upon you or your spouse for tax purposes.

Full-time postsecondary studies:

You're in full-time postsecondary studies if you're taking 60% or more of a full course load (or 40% or more if you're a student with a permanent disability).

OEN:

The OEN is a student identification number assigned by the Ministry of Education to Ontario elementary and secondary students. This unique number is used as the key identifier on a student's school records, and follows the student through their elementary and secondary education. The OEN is nine digits long (eight digits, plus a check digit), randomly assigned, and tied to stable information about the student (name, gender, date of birth). For more information, click <http://www.edu.gov.on.ca/eng/document/brochure/oen/index.html> or call the Ministry of Education at (416)325-2929 or 1-800-387-5514.

Part-time studies:

Part-time studies means taking from 20 to 59 % of a full course load at the postsecondary level of study (e.g., degree, diploma or certificate level).

Permanent disability is a functional limitation that is:

- caused by a physical or mental impairment that restricts your ability to perform the daily activities necessary to participate in studies at a postsecondary level or in the labour force, and
- expected to remain with you for your expected life.

Permanent Resident:

A permanent resident in Canada is someone who is not a Canadian citizen but has the right to enter and remain in Canada. Permanent residents are citizens of other countries. A permanent resident must live in Canada for two years of every five years or risk losing their permanent resident status. A Record of Landing form (issued prior to 2002), Confirmation of Permanent Residence form, and Permanent Resident Card all provide official proof of status of permanent residency in Canada.

Protected Person:

A protected person is an individual who holds a valid Verification of Status document issued by Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada, or a valid Protected Persons Status Document issued prior to January 1, 2013. A decision letter (“Notice of Decision”) from the Immigration and Refugee Board (IRB) is also a valid form of identification. Protected Persons can include convention refugees, humanitarian-protected persons abroad, and persons in need of protection. A person in need of protection is a person in Canada whose removal to their country of nationality or former habitual residence will make them subject to the possibility of torture, risk of life, or risk of cruel and unusual treatment or punishment. A Protected Person is defined in subsection 95(2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (Canada).

Sole-support parent:

You are a sole-support parent you have your dependent child or children living with you on a full-time basis (50% or more) during your study period AND you are single, separated, divorced or widowed. See “Dependent children” definition.

Spouse:

Spouse is the person to whom you are married or the person with whom you are living in a common-law relationship.

Study period:

Your study period is the time period during the current academic year in which you are considered to be in school. This time period, which is set by your postsecondary institution, is used to determine the amount of your aid, as well as various deadlines to submit applications or supporting documents.

Note:

If you are in school for more than one term (also known as a semester) during the current academic year and your course loads are different for each term, each term is considered a separate study period and you will have to submit a separate part-time application for each term. In that instance, the start date and end date that you enter for each application will correspond to the course load for the term in question.

Total Principal:

The total principal is the total amount of part-time student loans that you have borrowed and still have to repay.
