In this document, the term “OSAP Loans” refers to Canada-Ontario Integrated Student Loans, Ontario Student Loans, and Canada Student Loans issued through the Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP).

Background

Student loan borrowers are not required to make payments on their OSAP Loans for the first six months after leaving full-time post-secondary studies. This is referred to as the “grace period”. (Example, if you finished full-time studies on April 20, your six-month grace period would end on October 31).

However, if your grace period has not yet ended and you are the owner or joint owner of an eligible new business, you may apply for a six-month extension to your existing grace period. To qualify, your business must operate in Ontario and be registered with the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA). During the six-month grace period extension, no payments will be required on your OSAP Loans. Once the six-month grace period extension has ended, all of your OSAP Loans, including any interest that has accrued, become repayable. (Note: Government student loans issued through other provinces or territories are not covered by this benefit.)

If you are approved for the six-month grace period extension, you still may apply for assistance through the Repayment Assistance Plan (RAP) and/or the Severe Permanent Disability Benefit Program at any point after your initial grace period. For further information on these programs, go to the OSAP website at ontario.ca/osap.
